Rock Stars Today

Hello!

Here's to jumping into summer and warmer weather!!

I hope everyone has thawed out after our spring show! Even though Mother Nature did not cooperate very well, we still had a great turnout with 57 pintos showing and 415 class entries! We had several pintos get registered at the show and had each division represented in the classes (stock, hunter, solid, pleasure/saddle, pony and mini). Hoping for nicer weather at the East Central Pinto Jubilee August 6-7 in New Castle!!

We have also set a date for a Pinto trail ride to be held in Brown County this year. The dates are August 25-28, 2016. Come and enjoy the fun! You will be responsible for reserving your own campsite.

We will have a meeting in October to discuss next year's showbill so if you would like to see any changes, please attend or let someone on the board know!

Looking forward to seeing everyone at the ECPJ!
Happy trails!

IPtHA President
Jill

How to register your Pinto

Pinto horses can be registered directly through The Pinto Horse Association of America or through a PtHA Field Representative. To register a Pinto directly through PtHA, visit their website at www.Pinto.org to download all membership and registration application forms. PtHA Field Representatives can be found at most PtHA horse shows and can inspect your horse, fill out the necessary paperwork and assign a temporary PtHA number that allows you to show immediately and is good for three months. The Field Representative will then forward the paperwork to PtHA and a permanent number will be assigned. Please see the PtHA website for complete information on registration requirements including color, approved outcross breeds, sizes, etc.

Paperwork needed for PtHA Horse Shows

1. Copy of current National PtHA Membership Card for Owner and Exhibitor, if applicable. Also, a copy of current Amateur and/or Youth National PtHA Membership Card(s), if applicable. (All Memberships can be obtained at the show.)
2. Copy of current National PtHA Registration Paper for the horse, pony, mini or utility to be shown. (On-site PtHA Registration is available at all Indiana PtHA Horse Shows for qualified horses.)
3. Copy of all applicable paperwork – including PtHA Lease Notification Form, Family Relationship Form, etc. SEE THE SHOW BILL OR OUR WEBSITE FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION.
4. Copy of current negative Coggins Test. PLEASE NOTE: The State of Indiana requires all out-of-state horses to have a current Health Certificate – please bring a copy of this as well.

Any of the above items not provided to the Show Office may result in disqualification. The required copies listed above will be retained in a file by the Show Office staff for the current show season.

For complete registration information, visit www.Pinto.org or call PtHA at (405) 491-0111. For complete information on all Indiana PtHA Horse Shows and activities, please visit www.indianapinto.com, email us at pintobanner@gmail.com or see our list of officers for reference to call.

The Sajdera/McKeague Family

I would like to introduce you to the Sajdera/McKeague family, Kelsey, Debbie, Tiffany, Kaylynn and new arrival as of March 1st - Leigha. We have been showing Pinto since 2003 and love every minute of it. Our family is growing with new exhibitors and new horses this year. Kaylynn my 3 year old granddaughter will be showing A Touch of Gunpowder (Gunner) in Leadline and Leadline Showmanship. Kelsey will continue to show Gunner at shows but will also be showing PS Hava Doubleshot (Pete) in the solid division. Tiffany will take the reins on full line of classes for KK's Lil Lila (Lila). As for myself, Debbie, I do not ride or show but I love and support Indiana Pinto. This year I became a 3 year director and look forward to the ever developing programs that Pinto has to offer.

The members of Indiana Pinto are always very welcoming and truly helpful every time our family brings in a new discipline that we want to learn. Last year we dabbled in the miniature horse classes and were offered great advice which made showing Lila so much fun. We have shown Pinto in other states as well as the World Show and Color Breed Congress and the response is always the same – inviting, fun, and often entertaining.

Judges Discuss Top Ten Fashion Mistakes with Stephanie Lynn

Stephanie Lynn/GoHorseShow

The fashion faux pas that bothers judge Jill Newcomb the most is pants that are too short. Photo © GoHorseShow

Judges, by definition, are an opinionated group. Their job is to evaluate exhibitors, separate runs and place each class. And judges will use every bit of criteria available to determine the winners. While no judge evaluates an exhibitor solely on their outfit, there is no doubt that what an exhibitor wears makes a difference in judges' minds as they assess contestants. But perhaps not for the reasons you think.

Each judge interviewed relayed a common theme – they are looking for a clean, polished look, one that looks professional and shows respect to the discipline, its heritage and traditions. Many of the judges interviewed repeated the points made by others. The mistakes they see most often are also some of the easiest to correct.

1) Short pants

As one of our best dressed judges, Jill Newcomb has an affinity for all things with bling yet when asked, the fashion faux pas that bothers Jill the most is still pants that are too short. “Perhaps it is because I am tall and can sympathize, but one of my biggest pet peeves is short pants. I understand kids grow, I understand it can be difficult to find pants that are long enough. But when pants are too short, my eye is drawn to the exhibitor’s boots and all I see is feet. It simply does not look finished or polished.” Jill also dislikes it when exhibitors wear their numbers low on their backs just above their hips. “Numbers should be worn between your shoulder blades not at or below your waist.”

2) Mismatched boots

Sara Simons agrees with Jill. “If I can find pants that are long enough so can the exhibitor,” Sara exclaimed. She also finds it important for exhibitors to “match their boots to their pants, especially when the pants are light colored. It completes the look.” Sara tells students, “You have to commit. If you want to wear navy blue, then you commit to navy blue. If you want to wear tan, you commit to tan. I am not saying you have to buy an expensive pair of boots, but I tell my students they need to commit to a color, buy a pair of leather soled boots, take them to the cobbler and have them dyed.” In Sara’s opinion, that is one reason the color black is so popular, exhibitors can easily buy boots and pants that match. A streamlined look is always the best and for showmanship, Jill and Sara are looking for a clean polished look. Anything that distracts when the exhibitor is running, like pants that are too short and boots of a different color, detract from the overall performance.

3) Tight white pants

For Melissa Dukes, it is “tight white pants. White pants are a difficult look for anyone to pull off,” Melissa indicated. She suggests, “Exhibitors wearing light colored pants should make sure the pants fit properly are lined. A lined pair of pants will hang better especially when the fabric is a light color. It is simply a tough look to pull off and having the right fabrication and fit is imperative if you are to do it successfully.”

4) Messy hair

John Briggs finds messy hair to be telling of the efforts made in the presentation. It is a significant detail and John feels “as though exhibitors did not put forth their best effort” when hair is messy. A neat clean look tells John that the exhibitor not only cares but “paid attention to the details that go into a good presentation. I am looking for a neat, clean and finished look. Unkempt hair does not portray a well-prepared exhibitor. It is all about presentation and that includes neat hair.”

5) Excessive fringe on jackets

Clay MacLeod doesn’t like to see anything that takes away from the rider’s overall look like excessive fringe on jackets. “Besides looking rather silly, it makes for a lot of unnecessary movement. It is very distracting, especially in horsemanship and showmanship,” Clay said. “Also, excessive ornamentation on hats such as cowhide, exotic leathers and sequins.” Clay referred to himself as old-fashioned however he is not alone in his opinion.

6) Disregard for tradition

Many judges spoke up regarding an exhibitor’s respect to traditional values of the discipline in attire. Clay Farrell indicated he doesn’t like, “anything that takes my eye away from a beautiful rider on course. That could be a brightly colored shirt, boots that are too short or an oddly colored hunt coat – anything a traditionalist might find unacceptable.” Clay makes it clear that he would not hold it against an exhibitor, but may use it in a tiebreaker situation especially in an equitation class.

7) Poorly fitting chaps

Suzy Jeane maintains, “No matter how good your leg is, I cannot see it if your chaps are too big.” It is a problem all too common. “I see chaps that are too big on top, the thigh or hip as well as at the lower leg and ankle. Either way, if you want me to see how good your leg is, I have to be able to see your leg. If your chaps are too big, I simply cannot see your leg.” Suzy recommends, “Spending the money on custom chaps for the best fit and look. It is just about impossible to find a pair of chaps that fit correctly off the shelf.”

8) Appropriate attire for age and body

Gayle Lampinen helps fit clients in outfits that are appropriate for their age, their body type and their horse's color. She finds certain colors seem to have an age limit and likes to see riders beyond 13 & under in darker hues when wearing colors. Gayle finds it offensive when she sees pants too tight or pants worn without appropriate undergarments. It plays to the same theme we have heard throughout – nothing that diverts the judge's eye or devalues the overall performance.

9) Hair net bun covers

While still quite popular in some breeds, dark colored or crocheted hairnets are not used in most stock horse breed shows. Chris Thompson tells students to, “use natural colored, thinly woven hair nets to keep hair in place with lots of hair spray if necessary.” Like the other judges, Chris is looking for a streamlined look and finds the dark bun covers draw negative attention. “Anything that grabs my attention takes away from the overall look. If it disrupts the flow of the outfit, it is a negative for me. Heavy dark hairnets stand out and look out of place.” Chris agreed with John Briggs, “neat and tidy; clean and professional.”

10) Heavy soled boots

Rhonda Replogle makes sure all of her students wear a leather-soled boot. She especially does not want to see thick rubber soled boots in halter and horsemanship classes. “Thick rubber soled boots look like work boots and are not appropriate or dressy enough for the show ring, no matter the size of the show. A smooth leather-soled boot presents the most professional look in the show ring,” Rhonda indicated. “And in riding classes, leather soled boots allow your foot to hang in the stirrup properly. It is also a safety factor, thick soled, rubber bottomed boots do not slide in the stirrup as a boot is intended to do.” Rhonda suggests students look at ropers that are very economical and can be purchased in a variety of colors.

The overriding theme with the judges I spoke with was clean lines and nothing that disrupts the flow of the exhibitors' performance by drawing the eye away from the overall look. While exhibitors are encouraged to express their individuality in the show ring with their outfit, it is important to heed the judges' thoughts. Exhibitors are trying to build a positive impression with the judges and any distraction becomes neutral at best. Happy Shopping!
