Wishes You All A Great Year!

President's Letter

What a nice turn out we had at the Jan. 20th meeting. A lot of ideas both, old and new, were discussed and I feel our club is on the path once again to a tremendous show season. The new board members certainly stepped up with thoughts and plans for the benefit of the club. As always I love hearing what YOU think.

All committee chairs decided to remain in place. One new Board Member, Tracy, suggested a new committee she would like to chair known as the Hoosier Shoot Out. Details will be discussed for this and she will provide an overall view at the next meeting. We also finalized our plans for the March White Elephant Sale. Delores has obtained the clubhouse at the Knights of Columbus in Wabash for March 17th, beginning at 12:00 noon with our normal carry-in style meal. I also mentioned about the silent auction and we had apparently decided at the last meeting (which I must have either been asleep, or my old mind forgot) that baskets, or whatever you bring, will be bid on with sign up sheets. Thought this was fantastic and would run more smoothly. At this same time, we also agreed to hold our Year End Banquet at the same location on November 17th, although we have a "few months" to plan this, what a nice idea knowing our location is at least in place.

Deb gave us details on the club's annual Poker Run. She obtained information and confirmation for this year to ride at Tippi on June 15th, with first rider out at 9 AM. More details as far as a meal, snacks or where in the park we will meet will be forthcoming. As always, Deb will need volunteers. This year the park will not waive the $5.00 entry fee for those people volunteering, so please keep that in mind. The actual flyer will be printed and ready soon, I'm sure.

We also discussed advertising. Our club has done a really nice job in letting people know who we are, what we do and also all of the information on our upcoming events and shows. This year will be no exception. Along those lines, we agreed the FB page Jill maintains for the club's benefit, website and now Jim Dettmer's new website, for shows and class schedules, is fantastic and still in place. We have elected to do the same advertising as last year in the publication that lists all horse shows in our area. We tossed around the Hoosier Horse Circuit, but I need to find out for sure what the cost might be for one issue. We also learned from Annette that the HHF along with other Equine events may not allow that publication to be present at the event, but all agreed we get it in the mail. I was asked to check into the Auto RV publication I work for, as many pick it up and it is free for readers. I certainly will follow up on that one and hopefully I can work a deal to either pay for it myself or get a discount through work.

Jamie let us know that she will not be able to do the announcing for the spring show, due to a conflict, she'll be in Kansas at her sister's graduation. She made us all laugh when she couldn't miss it, after all, it HAS taken her sister seven years to complete. Therefore, Annette and Lou stepped up to say they would be happy to help with that show. I am confident that our announcer will be prepared and ready to go, or at least Annette will....lol! Thanks to you both for helping our club.

The decision was made to invite Lori to shoot photos at the Spring and Fall shows, as well as asking Cassandra to do our ECPJ in Aug. Everyone loves the photos Lori has done in the past, but wanted Annette to check to make sure she would not only be willing to do those particular dates, but is set up to print or preview the photos at the shows. I need to get some sort of conformation from either Joe or the other clubs that we can invite a photographer to do the Aug. show. This way, exhibitors will have the opportunity to see both photographers work and decide for themselves who they like best. I do hope with this new approach more people will purchase their photos. If not, then once again we'll be up against finding someone to shoot our shows.

If you don't know by now, Krissy Fairfield has agreed to take over the Banner (with Joe's help) and is doing a really fine job. She has requested that anyone with stories or poems pertaining to our own horses or those of someone else's and would like to submit them for printing in the Banner please send them to her. I think this will indeed make our Banner more interesting and people friendly. I have submitted one of my own favorite horse stories and hope that those that read the Banner will share it with others, enjoy!

Finally, we learned of several extended family deaths. It is with a heavy heart, I too am touched by this. My own dear mother went to be with the Lord on Dec. 14th. I offer prayers for Barb and Joe's mother, as well as BA's aunt and any others that are now resting peacefully. There are also upcoming surgeries for Cindy Books and I offer her prayers to guide her surgeon's hand. Please keep these people in your thoughts.

I look forward to YOUR ideas, whether they are new or old, as well as meeting new faces in the upcoming months. Please join us at our next meeting, Feb. 24th (yes, we will be home for the Oscars) which will also be at the same location, Casa Grande's in Gas City.

Respectfully,

Cheryl Ann Kratzert-Walls

Important Info

Dear Pinto Pals,

I recently took over running of this banner from our friend, Joe Grissom. Hopefully I will run it as well as he did! I just have a couple of small informational tidbits that I would like to all to keep in mind for the following year. First off, in order to get out the banner in a timely fashion, I will need your information, whether that is an ad, cover or story, no later than the 23rd of the previous month. (I.e. if you have the cover for June issue, the deadline would be May 23rd) If it not received by this time, you will forfeit your spot and not be reimbursed.

Also, I have started a new section of the banner which I believe will be great fun for all readers. It's called "Pony Tales," and it will run poems and stories from our own pinto friends. I am looking for any type of horse related stories that you all want to share. It can be a short story, a paragraph or three pages, I'm not picky. We would just love to hear from you!

Thanks and see you at the shows!

Krissy Fairfield

Deadline for the next issue is MARCH 23rd and will be the issue passed out at the Hoosier Horse Fair!!

Pony Tales

A Mother's Love

By Cheryl Kratzert-Walls

With the recent loss of my own mother, my mind began to remember all of the loving things she had done for me. A word of kindness, a touch of her hand or a simple hello in that sweet voice, she was my mother, after all. It brought back a flood of memories and one in particular that has often made me smile.

As most know, I'm always on the lookout for the next horse that I'll try, whether in the ring or when I was breeding, adding to the broodmare band. One sunny Saturday morning, I received a call from a friend of mine stating he'd just gotten two semi loads of Paint horses in from South Dakota and was wondering if I'd like a peek at some of the mares. Of course I would. So off to Michigan I went. When I arrived, there were several really nice mares in a paddock and I selected two of them. One was a homozygous mare named, Ima Dandy Pepper. She had a kind eye, as well as overall good conformation along with her pleasing personality. I purchased her for the farm. Checking her over, I made the comment that she must have recently weaned a foal as she still had bag. I was told that all of the mares were shipped in from near the Canadian border to this sale and foals were separated into several pens, no telling where her foal may be now. With that, I said my goodbyes and loaded up the mares. On the way out however, I noticed a few pens of weanlings and yearlings. There, lying on the ground, barely able to move was the most pitiful looking colt I'd ever seen. I made the inquiry as to what the heck his story was and was told, "Please don't look at him, he'll be put down in a few hours." When I asked why, I was told that somehow he'd been beneath all of the foals on the ride back to Michigan. They were literally standing on this poor foal the entire ride back. He could no longer get to his feet, yet when I knelt down beside him, he was able to lift his head. One look into those dark eyes was all it took. I said to the hired man, please get some ropes, let's try to get him on his feet and make a sling. Everyone there in the barn was in shock, they kept repeating, "He won't stay up" and "His muscles are gone." But try I did. A hundred prayers later, he was up and tied to the rafters. I told my friend, "When the vet comes out, please have this colt checked. If there are no serious bone injuries or he is not in a painful distress level, I'll buy him also." The whole barn went up in a roar of laughter. But, I was determined the colt wanted to live if just given the chance. All the way home, I just kept repeating my prayer that God would find in his infinite wisdom to heal this colt and allow me to at least try. Hours ticked by, then the phone rang. The vet said, "No broken bones, but he will need a ton of work to get his legs back into shape as the circulation was definitely cut off for a length of time.” “When can I pick him up?” was my reply. Four days later, the colt, not yet named at this time, was on the trailer headed to the vet’s hospital. When I unloaded him, they too said it would be a miracle if he came out of this, but low and behold, once again, he was a fighter. In only a week he finally came to the farm. It was suggested I put him with another weanling, which I did. But watching the colt daily, would only be heart wrenching for me. He seemed to have no energy, no spark, no will to even do much more than stand in the corner. His eyes dull and lifeless said, “I’m so lonely, I’m afraid, I don’t know where I am or who anyone is in this paddock.” Brushing, leading and general loving did nothing to lift his spirit. After ten days of hand feeding, spending hours in the pen, I decided to just turn him out into the big field with the broodmares and their foals. My only thought was, “Please God, once again I ask you to look out for this colt.” I was so afraid the mares would charge him. As I opened the door, Pep the homozygous mare, raised her head and took a deep breath of the wind and let out a bellow that could be heard for miles. She headed for the barn on a dead run. The colt too seemed to be breathing in the air more deeply and with that, he too, began to sing out. All I could imagine was a mare, tearing into this frail creature and what would I do. But, as soon as they got nose to nose, she began to give that low soft sound only a mother can make. She licked, nuzzled, nipped and pushed on the little colt. How could that be, did she know him? I’d never seen such love, it almost looked as if she were crying. I rushed into the tack room where I’d laid the registration papers for both the mares, as well as the application of registration for the colt. Yes, it was true, she was his dam. From Canada, to South Dakota, to Michigan and finally to Indiana, her love had endured, she never gave up. From that moment on he was named FWF Pepper Every Time, or “Evert.” The vets will tell you it was his care or the medicine he was given that turned this little life around. However, I know in my heart it was A Mother’s Love that saved him.

New Years Resolution from a Horse

I will NOT stop to poop or pee every time I pass the same spot in the arena.

I will NOT wander off when my handler drops the lead rope.

My stall is NOT my litter box when I have free access to my paddock, I will NOT go inside to pee.

I will NOT roll in the arena during halter class.

I will NOT leap over nonexistent obstacles when the whim strikes me.

I promise NOT to swish my tail while my human is cleaning out my back hooves or trying to brush/braid my tail.

I will NOT bite my farrier's butt just because it's there.

I will NOT confuse my human's hair with really soft hay.

I will NOT wipe green slime down my human's clean shirt, especially if it's white.

I will NOT blow my nose on my human.

I will NOT try to mooch goodies off any human in a one mile radius.

I will NOT lay totally flat out in my stall with my eyes glazed over and my legs straight out pretending I can't head my human frantically screaming, "are you alright??"

I will NOT chase my pasture mates into the electric fence, just to see if it's on.

I will NOT grab my lead rope in my mouth and attempt to lead myself.

I promise NOT to dump the wheelbarrow of manure over while my human is cleaning stalls.

I will NOT bit the butt of the horse in front of my during a trail ride just to say, "hi."

I will forgive my human for the very bad haircut, even though I look ridiculous.

I am neither a beaver nor a carpenter therefore I promise NOT to eat or remodel the barn or new fences.

I will accept that NOT every carrot is for me.

I will NOT keep my ears back or lopsided or look anywhere but at the camera while my human is trying to take photos.

I WILL love my human not matter what crazy thing they ask of me, unconditionally.

Logan County Fair
By Kristina Fairfield

The sun dies, sweeping shadows that dance with beam of halogen lights in the mutilated footprints on the arena floor.
Light flickers her eyes to an iridescent blue blinding what little sight she owns.
I become her eyes in the growing darkness,
guide her with my weight
and squeezing heels.
With a whisper clicking tongue
her ears flip back, to listen, to trust. Nerves scream
in my gut as the chatter from the crowd roars through my concentration and merges with scents of french fries and alfalfa on the cooling wind.
The trophy glitters in the grandstand.
It snaps me back to her; I can taste victory mixed with candy apples in the air.
Other riders swoop by in the swirl of sparkleglistened chestnuts and palomino dreams;
we watch them from corners of our eyes
as they clip-clop past.
The drum of her steps
beats her rhythm, changes her tune,
as the speaker static voice cracks out commands:
walk
 trot canter
the words translate in my body as head high,
arm straight, heels down.
Ignore the itch in my nose,
the white sweat foaming her flanks;
wash away the fly spray and hamburgers filling my nostrils.
Clear away the murmurs of squealing children and microphone buzzes.
It's just me and her, and we move as one to our first triumph.
